Beloved Faithful,

"For what will it profit a man if he gains the whole world, and loses his own soul? Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul." (Mark 8:36-37)

With these two questions Christ asks each and every one of us, we are all called to take a look into the recesses of our minds and into the depths of our souls. We are forced to come to terms with the meaning of our lives. What value do we place on eternal life? How important is the spiritual health of our souls to us?

My friends, in the context of this passage, Jesus Christ is telling us that the ultimate meaning of life is based upon Christ's love for us and our response to that divine love. Christ's love is not selfish or vainglorious—it is altruistic and completely self-giving. If we truly value eternal life and if the health of our souls is of the utmost importance, then unselfish love, abounding agape, should be our response to Christ's love for us.

One manifestation of self-giving love has come, for many decades, through the tireless efforts and works of the Philoptochos. The Philoptochos societies have been our examples of love, charity, and beneficence for many years and continue to do so today.

On November 1, 2003, the Metropolis of Detroit Philoptochos will host the National Children's Medical Fund Luncheon at the Ritz Carlton in Dearborn, MI. This event will help raise tens of thousands of dollars for five Children's hospitals within the Metropolis of Detroit as well as raise money for the National Philoptochos Medical Fund. This is truly a worthy and endeavor!

Even though all tickets have been sold and there is currently a waiting list, you can still help. Please contact your local parish Philoptochos and offer whatever assistance you are able to this beautiful act of Christian charity and love. This is a significant way each and every one of us can respond to the love Christ has shown us and it shows the great value and meaning Orthodox Christians place in unselfish acts of agape.

With Paternal blessings,
I remain,

Metropolitan Nicholas

Nashville Hosts Clergy Laity Conference By Presbytera Thea Ballas

The city known as "the Athens of the South" was the setting of the Metropolis of Detroit Clergy Laity and Philoptochos Conferences held June 17-20 in Nashville, TN. The hospitable community of Holy Trinity Church hosted the successful conference under the spiritual direction of His Eminence Metropolitan Nicholas.

The Conference began on June 17th with meetings of the Clergy Syndesmos and Metropolis Council, and a gathering for clergy families with Metropolitan Nicholas. The morning of June 18 began with Divine Liturgy. Metropolitan Nicholas officiated. Words of inspiration were given by the Metropolitan in his keynote address with the theme of the conference being, "But Grow in the Grace and Knowledge of Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." (2 Peter 3:18) The day also included the opening session of the Philoptochos conference, committee meetings, lectures and workshops, and concluded with a Vespers service at Holy Trinity Church followed by a picnic.

June 19th, the second official day of the conference, included numerous seminars and committee meetings in preparation for the plenary session. The day also featured the arrival of His Eminence Archbishop Demetrios as the conference was underway. George Anderson, Conference Chairman and Parish Council President of Holy Trinity Church, noted the importance of his visit since it had been sixty-eight years since an Archbishop visited Nashville. The delegates had the opportunity to meet the Archbishop at the Nashville Parthenon. The Parthenon is a full-scale replica of the original Parthenon in Athens and has been recently renovated to serve as the city's art museum.

Philoptochos News By Katherine Kotsis, President

Philoptochos conferences offer delegates and visitors the occasion to celebrate the work accomplished and to plan for a better tomorrow. Conferences afford us the opportunity to meet our sisters from chapters throughout our Metropolis in order to communicate our concerns, establish new ideas for Philoptochos outreach programs, strengthen membership, and to share in fellowship.

The Philoptochos Conference held in Nashville, TN, in June was well-attended and productive. Forty-six Philoptochos delegates representing Michigan, New York, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee participated in the legislative, ways and means, membership and finance workshops. Delegates attended the many presentations and learning sessions offered by the Clergy Laity Conference.

His Eminence Metropolitan Nicholas, in his opening address to the Philoptochos delegates, spoke on the mission of Philoptochos in the 21st century. "Philoptochos is to be a philanthropist, to extend the mercy of God, to be people loving and people serving. Please think not only of your local parish but also the wider Church. We have inherited beautiful palaces of Glory to God; this generation has the opportunity to be healers of the broken heart."

Throughout the Conference sessions, we were honored to have as our guest, National Philoptochos President, Georgia Skeadas. In her opening address she emphasized the renewal of the spirit that Pascha renews in each of us the spirit of love and charity

That evening a grand banquet was held at the hotel ballroom. Demetria Kalodimos, a local anchorwoman in Nashville, served as the master of ceremonies. The mayor of Nashville, Bill Purcell, welcomed Archbishop Demetrios and Metropolitan Nicholas to the "Athens of the South." Also present was State Senator Douglas Henry, who welcomed everyone by speaking Greek and presented a proclamation from the Tennessee State Senate. Greetings were also offered by Fr. Nicholas Pathenos, Metropolis of Detroit Clergy Syndesmos President; Katherine Kotsis, Metropolis Philoptochos President; Joan Felts, Holy Trinity Philoptochos President; Georgia Skeadas, National Philoptochos President; Gus Stavropoulos, Metropolis Council Vice-Chair; and Fr. George Vapolis, Holy Trinity Church parish priest.

The last day of the conference started with a Doxology and Artoklasia service. The plenary session commenced shortly thereafter and the committees presented their reports for discussion and approval. The plenary session was attended by the Metropolitan and Archbishop. Thomas Demery, Chairman for the plenary session, and Gust Feles, Council Treasurer, presented the financial committee report. The "Friends of the Metropolis Program" was explained in great length and pledge forms were distributed. Also in attendance was Jerry Dimitriou, Archdiocese Executive Director of Administration, who complimented the Metropolis of Detroit for presenting audited financial statements. All committees presented their reports and were approved unanimously.

Later in the afternoon, Archbishop Demetrios and Metropolitan Nicholas visited the host parish, Holy Trinity Church, and spent some time with the faithful.

which has been given to each of us in the Resurrection. Mrs. Skeadas commended all the delegates and members for their willingness to be in the "circle of giving" which mirrors the heart of the Lord. Mrs. Skeadas congratulated the Metropolis of Detroit Philoptochos for hosting the Children's Medical Fund Luncheon and enlightened the delegates on the vital assistance the Medical Fund provides for critically ill and disabled children.

Philoptochos board member, Evanthia Valassiades, presented the delegates with the "Project Bank" program which was established at the Buffalo conference as a resolution. This program creates a resource bank of activities and projects submitted by the chapters. The project encourages members to share their ideas with members as an aid to enhance the successful outcome of chapter programs and projects. This net-

Congratulations to the recipients of the Rotary Charity Drawing, Vanderbilt Children's Hospital, Nashville, TN, and Abilities First (assistance to disable children), Middletown, OH. Each received an award of $500 from the Bakeless Bake Sale fundraiser.

The Philoptochos Conference concluded with the heartfelt message and inspiring words of His Eminence Archbishop Demetrios.

Many thanks to Mr. George Anderson, Presvytera Stella Sfikas, Mrs. Joan Felts, and the Nashville Conference committee for their fine work. Everyone had a great time of renewed friendships and fellowship.

National Philoptochos Children's Medical Fund Luncheon

The Medical Fund Luncheon is quickly approaching. We are anxiously awaiting this very special event. Sponsor letters, raffle tickets and invitations have been sent to all chapters and members. Everyone is welcome to attend—everyone is welcome to support. Anyone interested in assisting us with the sponsor program or if you would like to purchase a raffle ticket of beautiful gifts, please contact your local Philoptochos chapter president or the Luncheon chairs.

We hope to see you on November 1!

PLEASE NOTE: As of September 15th the Luncheon has been sold out and there is a waiting list—but you can still help! Please contact your local parish Philoptochos to find out how you can help us in this true act of Christian love and charity.
